NETIVOT SHALOM

AUGUST 1999
AV/ELUL 5759

Many of you know that I usually spend one week teaching a course in liturgy at the University of Judaism during the last week each June. This year was particularly wonderful, since I was privileged to teach with a colleague, Saul Wachs, who actually was my first High Holiday nusach teacher, about forty years ago. Five days of teaching the Amidah (and only the Amidah) was pretty strenuous, but tremendously rewarding and fulfilling.

In earlier years, I taught other aspects of our liturgy. For the past few, especially when I worked with Debbie Friedman, I came to see the powerful effect that studying and experiencing our rich liturgy could have upon those who joined our classes. One part of our liturgy, in particular, stood out. It is the prayers that concern themselves with refuat haguf and refuat hanefesh - healing of body and healing of soul. Over and over again, when I recite the Mi Sheberach on Shabbat morning or when we sing Debbie's melody for Mi Sheberach, I have a feeling that, somehow, the magic of the liturgy brings comfort and healing to those in need. A close friend of mine even told me that he made it through a painful recovery after heart surgery by listening over and over again to Debbie's studying the story of Miriam and how Moses prayed for her recovery, listening quietly to appropriate readings, and thinking to ourselves about the possible applications these liturgical themes have for our own daily lives. Unlike other healing experiences, this one does not require anyone to divulge any personal experiences. Rather, it is the group which goes through a process - together, but as individuals.

I've been doing these sessions for about ten years now in different parts of North America. Many people in our congregation have asked me to conduct this "Refuat Hanefesh, Refuat Haguf: An Evening of Liturgy and Healing" experience here. (By the way, that's the tentative name, as of now.) So, I have invited Gail Foorman, currently a UJ rabbinical student, to join me for an upcoming evening of healing. I invite you to come and experience the power of our liturgy to renew and refresh the spirit. This also may serve as a preparation for our upcoming High Holiday season. Call the office for the date and time.

music. So, for the last few years, at the University of Judaism and in retreats nationwide, I (often with Debbie and others) have taken an hour or two and held an experiential program. In the past we've called this by its popular name: A Healing Service. But over time, I've become increasingly uncomfortable with the term 'Service' because it is not a "service" as we typically define one (no amidah, no shema). So, what to call this experience? Often, I use the phrase 'a liturgy of healing'. But this, too, does not do justice to the event. We spend the time studying parts of the traditional liturgy which deal with healing, singing some modern compositions,

All Netivot Shalom board meetings are open to the congregation, but rarely does a congregant attend unless there is an issue being discussed that is of interest to him/her. By the time this article reaches you, there will have been another board meeting to discuss the most recent building assessment. I assume that we will have several congregants' viewpoints' presented. The purpose of these types of meetings is for the board to hear the opinions of the membership in order to vote on an issue.

At the June 27th board meeting, about twenty-five congregants were present to voice their support, concerns and/or opposition to the initially proposed building assessment. I believe that meeting went well. I can't say that it was always easy or pleasant, but I think it was productive and enlightening.

Fortunately or unfortunately, every opinion comes with a personality, possibly some past history and (our best friend and occasional worst enemy) emotion. How I hear and react to information is often based on my personal feelings about the person speaking. Sometimes, a "button" gets pushed, (and let me tell you, there is no way that can be good!).

So, there we were -- a room full of congregants, (with opinions) and the board of directors (also with opinions). The question then became: would we allow our neighbors to express themselves, their emotions, egos, histories and personalities without becoming threatened, hurt or condescending? I believe the answer is that we did. To be a part of a community where these types of exchanges happen makes me very proud.

The system worked: the board heard from those present that the assessment was too high, and that the congregation needed more information or background on the issue. As a result, we lowered the assessment, and by now you will have received the July 1st letter outlining in greater detail what the board has been dealing with regarding our rental space.

In response to the membership's request that information about board activities be more easily available to those who do not attend meetings, Lee Feinstein has agreed to summarize the monthly Board meeting minutes for publication in this newsletter, making information on current issues available to everyone.

One last note: I want to personally and publicly thank the board for its integrity and dedication. Their job on June 27th was not an easy one, but they stood firm in their belief that an assessment was needed, took serious consideration of what they had heard, and were able to come to an agreement on how to do it. I am proud to be working with Barbara Wezelman, Julie Weisman, Turi Adams, John Reynolds, Andrea Altschuler, Jerry Derblich, Joe Meresman, Norman Rosenblatt, Ken Schnur, Claudia Valas, Mary Lukanuski, Judy Breakstone, Jeff Rosenbloom, David Levine and Jerry Isaak-Shapiro. ☆

ISRAEL

Dear June and Bob: How are you? We are fine. This last week my mother and I were at Ashkelon with our family enjoying nice days together. My mother is happy here, she feels very good and she helps me very much because I miss very much my best friends in Santiago de Cuba. This time is hard for me. To go to another country is not easy. But I hope that some time in the future I will do better. I am studying Hebrew and slowly- slowly I am learning. The teacher told us that we need 1.5 to 2 years to learn Hebrew.

NOW YOUR REPORT FROM BEER SHEVA: Jorge and Zeina are very happy here; it is good for me. The sisters Segal are fine, Abel (Zoe's husband) bought a car, Maria is very good at school. Roberto and Tamara are fine, they are enjoying to be in Israel and their daughter, Rosa Cecilia will come in June with her family along with Jacobo Segal and his wife, too... No news from Irene; but Tony [her son] does not have the authorization of the Cuban army. [He is of the age for service and must get permission to leave without giving the service.js].

Pampy wrote me. I am happy because you wrote her, too. She needs very much to have friends, because her grandson is now in Spain and my mother and I are here.

Please give my best regards to Frances Quittel, Miriam Hyman, Julie Weissman, the "Teens", and all my friends in California. My mother sends greetings. Always your friend, Clara

FROM JORGE AND ZEINA BEHAR: We went to Jerusalem this weekend and of course to the Western Wall. It was Shavout and there were (more or less) 15,000 people. Wonderful!

FROM ROBERTO NOVOA:

Dear June: At last we are in Israel. Everything is doing well. We began Hebrew course last week. It is hard but necessary. We all are well and excited because next 6/22 the rest of our family will arrive. Shalom, lehitraot and kisses for all, especially for you.

CUBAN VOICES

Some words from our friends in Cuba and Israel

OUR SISTER CONGREGATION IN SANTIAGO DE CUBA

FROM EUGENIA FARIN, PRESIDENT OF HATIKVA IN SANTIAGO:

Here in Santiago we are celebrating the birth of a new member of Hatikva in the Holy Land. [Ariadna was born on June 11th. She weighed eight and a half pounds and is reported to be "beautiful"js].

FROM VICKY DELGADO: Tomorrow, it is my family's turn to lead the study of the Torah portion, so we shall study it today in order to be prepared for that activity.

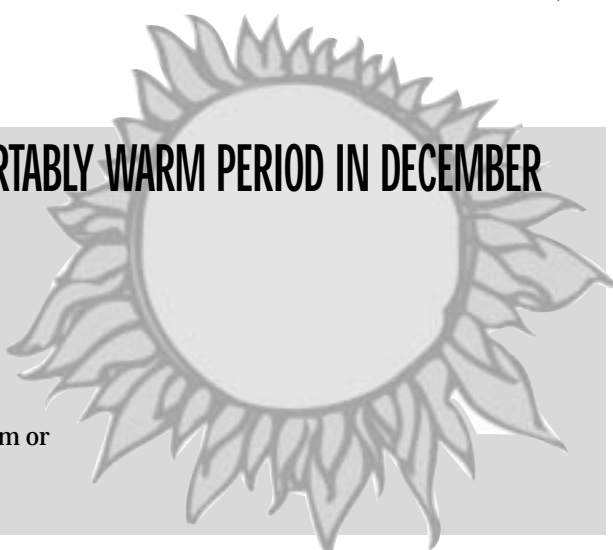

FROM EUGENIA FARIN: 6/24 The mosquito repellent will be bought for the families as soon as it's available in the stores, as there is none at this time, but we've been told that in a few days it should arrive.

I want to tell you that on Sunday we went to the beach with the entire community to celebrate Father's Day. The cost of this trip was paid with the money which you sent for this purpose. While there we played an instructive game about the occupation of the holy land of Israel by the 12 tribes. We made a map in the sand and described the spot where each settled. This corresponded to the Torah portion we had read on Shabbat. It really was beautiful to study thus on a splendid day in our land of eternal summer. ☆

YOUTH & ADULT EDUCATION

by Barbara Wezelman

STAFF FOR 5760

When Miriam Hyman announced in November that she would be leaving Netivot Shalom to attend the Reconstructionist Rabbinical College in Philadelphia (and get married), a subcommittee of the education committee was formed to search for an educator. It was with great sadness that we said good-bye to Miriam. Our search for a replacement, however, has not yielded a qualified full-time educator. Truth be told, this year, there were at least 12 full-time positions available here in the Bay Area for educators. Most of those positions have gone unfilled. We have therefore, divided the responsibilities into a few parts. We are extraordinarily fortunate to have people in our own community who were prepared to step in and run our educational enterprise. Wendy Rosov, whom many of you know (and who is famous for her Kiddush announcement technique) will be our Youth Education Coordinator, responsible for all aspects of administration of our school and holidays programming. In addition, Wendy will direct the Amitim program for all our b'nai mitzvah. Masha Savitz, who was previously one of our outstanding teachers, returns as the Religious School Director, responsible for everything that concerns that population. In addition, she will be the person running Yomim Noraim LYeladim, our famous High Holyday program for children, and its newer cousin: Chagim LYeladim, a similarly designed program which we will run on the three festivals of Sukkot, Pesach and Shavuot. Assisting in the office and teaching will be Michelle Wolfson. Iris Greenbaum returns as Program Director, working half-time primarily with adults. Through a matching grant offered by the Civic Foundation, we were able to increase the amount of time she can spend with us in developing programs for specific populations. That is the team for 5760.

BAR AND BAT MITZVAH PREPARATION

If there are any children whose 13th birthdays fall in 2000 or 2001 and who have not yet spoken with someone in our education office, please call Wendy Rosov or Lorraine Rosenblatt.

ADULT EDUCATION

Last year, Sanne DeWitt saw a need, and asked the Torah Study participants to help her meet it. People who led the discussion on the weekly parashah often shared with Sanne their frustration that they could not check the library's reference books out for home use, and as a result often had difficulty getting access to the materials they needed. With the help of generous donations from the Torah Study regulars, we've been able to purchase second copies of some of the most commonly used reference books (Leibowitz, JPS Torah commentaries, Plaut, Milgrom's Leviticus, Rashi, Mikraot Gedolot). They will be located on a separate shelf in the library and will be available for two week checkout by congregants preparing to lead a Torah Study session or give a drash. Todah rabbah to Sanne and all those who donated to the Torah Study fund last year. ☆

ONGOING CLASSES & STUDY GROUPS

TORAH STUDY, WITH NITZHIA SHAKED AND GUEST TEACHERS, meets every Shabbat at 9:00 a.m. in Room 4 at the JCC. Child care also begins at 9 a.m.

TALMUD STUDY, WITH RABBI KELMAN is taking a break and will resume later in the summer.

B'NAI AVRAHAM V'SARAH, a chavurah for Jews by choice and their families, meets monthly at various members' homes. For information call Denise Moyes-Schnur at 526-6445.

YIDDISH ANYONE? Mark Geliebter is interested in participating in a monthly, peer-led Yiddish literature group. If you are interested in helping to organize this, please give Mark a call at 524-7030. ☆

Rabbi Kelman will be teaching a minicourse on the Machzor (High Holiday prayer book), to help us prepare for Yomim Noraim. The sessions are scheduled for Sunday mornings, July 25th, August 8th and August 22nd, from 10:00 a.m. until 11:30 a.m. at the shul office on Berkeley Way. After July's introductory and overview class, Rabbi Kelman will concentrate on those issues and concerns that will most enhance our experience of these crucial prayer services. For more information contact Rabbi Kelman.

SELICHOT

Please join us for all or part of the evening on Saturday, September 4th, at Northbrae Church (Haver Hall) for study, song and prayer. The program will begin at 9:15 p.m. with ma'ariv & havdalah services, followed by a review of the common High Holiday niggunim (melodies). After a break for schmoozing and refreshments, two concurrent study sessions will begin at 10:15. The evening will conclude with the traditional Selichot service at midnight.

The first study session, led by Esther Brass, is entitled 'LShonot Selicha: Terms of Forgiveness.' This will be an exploration of prayers and other verbal ways to atone for wrongs committed between oneself and others, and between people and God.

Esther Brass, Ph.D. is a psychologist and studies and teaches Torah as an avocation.

In second study session, Sheila Jelen and Shachar Pinsker (topic TBA but guaranteed to be seasonal) will lead guided Chevruta study. Chevruta is a traditional way of learning Torah and Talmud by studying texts (in English translation, if desired) in pairs or very small groups. Leaders pick a topic, choose and prepare texts for study, introduce the topic and propose questions to ask in reading the texts, circulate among the groups to help when the going gets tough, and facilitate a plenary discussion at the end of the class. No special background or language skills are required.

Sheila Jelen and Shachar Pinsker are graduate students in modern Hebrew literature at UC Berkeley, have taught biblical and rabbinic texts in the community, and are active members of the GTU's Chevruta Project of the East Bay. ☆

KIDDUSH LIST

A MESSAGE TO THE CONGREGATION FROM A WOMAN CALLED SAM

You may not know it, so I will tell
 Why our kiddushim go so well.
 A family says " We've got a mitzvah"
 And calls me up, (you get the picture?)
 Or maybe they just want to celebrate
 That everyone is doing great.
 We set the date, they buy the food;
 But first I tell them the (few) rules.
 The Shabbat arrives, the service ends
 The congregants eat, the family kvells.
 Plain or fancy it doesn't matter

A MESSAGE FROM THE FUND-RAISING COMMITTEE ABOUT SCRIP

For over a year, we have been offering scrip to the congregation as one of our fund-raising efforts. We need your help to make this program a big success. As you probably know, as a non-profit organization, we can buy scrip at a 4-6% discount from local stores, and re-sell it to shul members at face value. It costs you nothing to participate, so you can help Netivot Shalom in a painless way.

We are now selling scrip for: Andronico's, Berkeley Bowl, Lucky's and Safeway. If you want to start a monthly order, just send a check marked VOID to the Netivot Shalom office, with the coupon and indicate whether you want to have the scrip mailed to you or whether you will pick it up at the office each month.

If you want to purchase scrip on a one-time basis, please send a check, payable to Netivot Shalom, along with the coupon. If you have any questions, please call David Levine (653-0679). Thanks for helping our shul!
